

ESG COORDINATOR / SUSTAINABILITY MANAGER (M/W/D)

SECTOR: BIOTECHNOLOGY
LOCATION: GREATER BREMEN AREA

COMPANY:

Our client is a leading global supplier of biological products utilized in the production of human and veterinary vaccines as well as in pharmaceutical research. With production and research facilities spanning Europe, North America and South America, the company stands as an innovation leader in its sector. Its clientele include not only well-known companies in the vaccine industry but also research laboratories and universities. As part of the further development of the company-wide sustainability strategy, we have been entrusted with the recruitment for the following position:

ESG Coordinator / Sustainability Manager (m/f/d)

YOUR TASKS:

In this role, you will play a pivotal role in advancing the company's sustainability strategy and overseeing company-wide sustainability management. Serving as the primary point of contact for stakeholders, you will also support both internal and external sustainability audits. Your key responsibilities will include:

- Developing and implementing a key performance indicator (KPI) system to monitor and measure sustainability performance
- Organizing and preparing the annual Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) report
- Coordinating the calculation and reporting of the company's annual carbon footprint

YOUR PROFILE:

You hold a degree in business or natural sciences and stand out for your independent work style, quick comprehension, and excellent analytical skills. Additionally, you bring professional experience in sustainability management and possess the following strengths and qualifications:

- A strong understanding of current sustainability trends
- Solid knowledge of political and legal requirements in the field of sustainability
- Proficiency in project-based and process-oriented methodologies
- Exceptional communication skills coupled with assertiveness
- A good command of the English language

OPPORTUNITIES AND PROSPECTS:

In this role, you will have the opportunity to actively help shape the sustainability strategy of a leading international company and implement forward-looking projects. You will benefit from flat hierarchies, short decision-making paths and a wide range of development opportunities in a dynamic and innovative working environment.

CONTACT:

Have we sparked your interest in this responsible role within a globally operating company? If so, we look forward to receiving your detailed application documents, which can be submitted online via our application form or by email to Lukas Seidel.
